Students from Woodford County School were inspired by the learning in the Lessons from Nature Introductory Module. They wrote poems using the title 'The Future We Want' for a competition run by the WWF . There were 300 entries nationally. 10 semi-finalists were identified – 3 of which were from Woodford County School. Well done girls!

We have included one of the poems that made it into the top 10 on our website. Visit the Inspiration page to read the poem.
